As a self-taught UI/UX designer and frontend developer, I bring a blend of creativity and technical know-how, refined through personal projects. Proficient in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, I value effective communication and thrive in collaborative, innovative environments.

EXPERIENCE

UI/UX DESIGN AND FRONTEND DEVELOPMENT

- Demonstrated a proactive commitment to skill development by self-teaching HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, achieving proficiency in frontend development and UI/UX design principles.
- Applied acquired knowledge to independently conceive, plan, and execute over 10 projects, showcasing a hands-on approach to learning and problem-solving.
- Accumulated practical experience by coding over 20,000 lines, reinforcing theoretical understanding and refining technical skills.
- Attained a comprehensive grasp of UI/UX design concepts, ensuring each project harmonizes aesthetics with functionality.

COMMUNICATION AND TEAM MANAGEMENT

- Served as the first-year class editor, fostering effective collaboration with editors from diverse classes and branches to exceed teachers' expectations in creating a highly successful wall magazine. Demonstrated versatility and eagerness by actively participating in voluntary work, art competitions and cultural programs.
- Served as the captain of Nirmala House(LJP School) , honing effective communication skills through orchestrating morning assemblies and managing diverse house-related activities. Successfully led and coordinated a team of students, showcasing strong team management and organizational abilities. Developed a nuanced understanding of individuals, fostering teamwork and a sense of community within the house.
- Bilingual in Hindi and English, I excel in effective communication, thriving in dynamic environments. Currently mastering Japanese through a college program, generously supported by Accenture, I am excited to broaden my cultural and linguistic horizons.
